

Special tour for specialist teachers

On 26 July 2013, Baumann Maschinenbau Solms welcomed a group of specialist teachers and professors of renowned international printing centres and universities. They were participants of the Specialist Teacher Training course organised by PrintPromotion (see Special course for multipliers in English in Germany on page 1).

In the morning, the guests were given a presentation of the products of Baumann-Wohlenberg and had ample opportunity to see the wide range of machines and equipment “live” at the demonstration centre. Sven Schubert, head of the Baumann sales department showed and explained the various systems. In addition, the guests could see the different stages of the production of the machines and equipment during a tour of the production facilities of Baumann Maschinenbau Solms under the motto “From the idea to the finished products”.

After lunch, Dr. Markus Heering, Managing Director of PrintPromotion, as well as Dipl.-Ing. Volkmar Assmann, Managing Director of Baumann Maschinenbau Solms and a member of the Supervisory Board of PrintPromotion, handed over the diplomas for the course to the participants.

This visit marked the end of this training course. From Solms, the participants travelled back to Frankfurt from where they
